Q14: 14. Outcomes and main achievements in your Network

Please describe the main outcomes and achievements	development of a method of empowerment for self psycho emotional protective factors for healthy workplace in parallel with standard 1 and 4;Poster award at the 19th HPH Conference in Turku-"Overnight" - Publication in quality of Outstanding scientific abstracts from the 20th HPH Conference in Taipei 2012 on Clinical Health Promotion vol 2 "Quality management: Pain assessment: How to improve health care quality through staff empowerment" Zoratti R, C Favaretti; despite the spending review we have realized 15th National Conference of Italian networks Nov. 8, 2012 renewing the third agreement
Please describe the main facilitators and supportive factors encountered	Regional coordination has given a major role in the annual program budget by inserting a line of work for the promotion of a healthy workplace managed with standard HPH with psycho emotional focus. The presence of the coordinator of the Italian networks as general manager of one of the leading members of the network has led to the establishment of an organizing committee to share the economic and organizational efforts dedicated to the 15th Italian HPH Conference. Most of the members have received Joint Commission accreditation.
Please describe the main problems encountered	Sharing the language of the standard, difficult to shift the focus from risk factors to protective factors. Due to the discomfort caused by a shortage of resources managers have struggled to invest additional forces on organizational well-being. Lack of time and resources to give visibility to the results achieved. Economic crisis is reducing all the resources.
What do you think is the limit for more hospitals and health services in your country/region to join the activities of your Network ?	Two research institutes (Childhood and Oncology) believe they have more advantages to join directly international networks with higher affinity to their target . For other companies depend on the levels of health care reorganization that the central government is applying under the spending review (probably reduction in number of companies)

Q58: 58. How do you think your Network could better contribute to the International HPH Network's fulfilment of its objectives?

It will be necessary a strong mission from the Regional Direction of Health to include the standard HPH in every quality programs, such as homogeneous instrument to monitor health promotion. Currently there is still a perception gap between prevention prevention, normally carried out by the department of prevention, and health promotion. This point of view often fragmented paths and disperdes resources. Coordination Centre HPH Friuli Venezia Giulia Network is promoting the integration of actions by the Local HPH Committee, that, situated in Staff Management, integrates prevention department with all the other leaders of hospitals and services to build shared paths that exceed the fragmentation. In addition, from 2013 we are integrating (at least in some health services) strategies accreditation with standards HPH

Q12: 12. Is your Network collecting membership fees? Yes

Q13: 13. Organizational structure and way of working

Describe the organization of your Network e.g. coordinating institution, scientific committee, steering group, task forces etc. (If available, please provide an organizational chart in APPENDIX)

The network is organised as a non-profit association according to Austrian law. As such, it has a General Assembly (in which each network member organisation is represented), a Governance Board (that is elected from the General Assembly members every three years), as well as a network chair. The association currently has two task forces organised as sections – one on smoke-free health services, one on baby-friendly hospitals. In 2011, the network has established a Scientific Advisory Board consisting of four Austrian experts. The network is scientifically and technically supported by the WHO Collaborating Centre for Health Promotion in Hospitals and Health Care at Ludwig Boltzmann Institute Health Promotion Research.

Q14: 14. Outcomes and main achievements in your Network

Please describe the main outcomes and achievements	One of the main achievements in this period has been the notable growth of the Austrian network, it gained 5 new member hospitals, therefore expanded from 22 to 27 members. Two successful conferences were organised in this period. We identify these as an outcome, since in both conferences, about 150 participants from outside and inside the network, both from interested hospitals and important policy partners took part.
Please describe the main facilitators and supportive factors encountered	Facilitators and supporting factors are for sure the good cooperation with important partners in Austria. Also the concentration on specific topics, via the two taskforces for smoke-free and baby-friendly hospitals, has been helpful to raise the awareness for the network. A good indicator for the standing of the network in the Austrian health system and policy is that it has been commissioned by the Austrian Federal Ministry of Health with rolling out the WHO and UNICEF Initiative “Baby-friendly Hospitals” in the course of the Austrian National Nutrition Strategy.
What do you think is the limit for more hospitals and health services in your country/region to join the activities of your Network ?	Austria has a total of 150 hospitals, therefore the network has a maximum of 150 potential members. We regard an approximate number of 50 members as an achievable goal for the next 10 years. To win all Austrian hospitals for the network seems neither realistic nor desirable, since it would lose its competitive edge.

(no label) 4

Q12: 12. Is your Network collecting membership fees? No

Q13: 13. Organizational structure and way of working

Describe the organization of your Network e.g. coordinating institution, scientific committee, steering group, task forces etc. (If available, please provide an organizational chart in APPENDIX)

Regionally, the HPH Regional Network is coordinated directly by the General Health and Social Policy Department of the Emilia-Romagna Region, and specifically by the public health service. In particular, the service is governed by the Reggio Emilia Local Health Service, which is the centre of coordination that provides support to the regional coordinator. In 2011, each regional health care unit in the HPH regional network again appointed its own HPH contact person. This person sits on a steering committee that is regularly convened by the regional coordinator to systematically discuss the subject of promoting health with all health care units. The objective for the future is to have these professionals set up "laboratories" for uncovering experiences and critical problems in this area, and for coming up with proposals for common activities aimed at promoting health and shared by different local health units

Q14: 14. Outcomes and main achievements in your Network

Please describe the main outcomes and achievements

1) Completion of a project that integrates HPH standards with the regional accreditation model during the implementation of the Regional Prevention Plan, through final validation of a checklist that was developed and tested in a health care unit. Also, in early 2011, the checklist was officially sent to all health care units, and a proposal was made to use this tool in their self-evaluation processes, given the appropriateness of including accreditation checks and a voluntary interview on the proposed themes at the unit, in much the same way as the current practice employed for risk management.<sup>2</sup> Reestablishment and strengthening of the regional HPH coordination group as a setting for sharing ideas and for a systematic discussion of health promotion with all the health care units, in order to mutually establish and plan proposals that take into account not only the priorities that emerge from the activities of the international HPH network, but also the policy of the Emilia-Romagna Region concerning the promotion of health.
 3) Diffuse participation in conferences, and dissemination of the materials and projects that are created and implemented at the units in the HPH network
 4) regional communication campaign on the use of stairs in public places

Please describe the main facilitators and supportive factors encountered

Gaining support from the Regional Government, clarifying the convergence of the HPH principles and interventions and the regional health policy objectives and values

Please describe the main problems encountered

To find the appropriate economic support

What do you think is the limit for more hospitals and health services in your country/region to join the activities of your Network ?

All institutions are already in the network, the problem is to keep them motivated and active, considering the huge amount of activities they are to fulfil to achieve the regional government objectives

Q14: 14. Outcomes and main achievements in your Network

Please describe the main outcomes and achievements	2011 - 2012 was our last most productive year. We took the theme of nutrition and held a major stakeholders workshop with caterers, purchasers, suppliers to the HSC system, managers, unions and keynote speakers. There were key sessions followed by table work which provided a rich report containing key recommendations to take forward healthy eating for staff across all HSC facilities. Then 2012/13 saw changes in the Network due to regional priorities which were mainstreaming HPH. As part of this realignment the recommendations from the workshop have been embraced by the Government's Regional working Group on Obesity. A major breakthrough and well welcomed by the Network. 2013 has seen a position paper on the HPH Network being discussed by the Public Health Agency's management team. This paper stated the current position of the Network and recommendations for the way forward. Responses from this paper expected April/May 2013
Please describe the main problems encountered	Changes within the HSC System in Northern Ireland with the new Public Health Strategy out for consultation. The focus on the Department of Health Northern Ireland through the Chief Medical Officer is committed to a Healthy Service. However this is not seen as a stand alone process rather embedded through commissioning, policy and strategy working groups.
What do you think is the limit for more hospitals and health services in your country/region to join the activities of your Network ?	This is impossible to consider until Primary Care is considered and what that would look like.

Q13: 13. Organizational structure and way of working

Describe the organization of your Network e.g. coordinating institution, scientific committee, steering group, task forces etc. (If available, please provide an organizational chart in APPENDIX)

The Greek HPH Network has 26 hospitals-members. The manager of each hospital-member has appointed 3 contact persons that represent the hospital in the Network and promote its objectives and goals. The General Assembly consists of the hospitals' representatives. There is an annual meeting, in which the new strategy is set and the 9 members of the Governance Board (GB) are elected. The elected members of the GB and the Network coordinator participate in the Governance Board, which holds meetings twice a year. The Coordinating Institution of the Greek HPH Network is the Institute of Social and Preventive Medicine.

Q14: 14. Outcomes and main achievements in your Network

HPH N/R Network Progress Reports 2012

Please describe the main outcomes and achievements

Firstly, the successful implementation of five conferences with the following topics: - Problems of Nutrition in the Hospital - Sexual health promotion for children and adolescents - Drugs for a hospital use - Health Promotion for the Prevention of Cardiovascular Disease - Health Promoting Hospitals and Environment In each Conference 100 to 170 members of the Greek HPH Network attended. Also, in the 20th HPH Conference, there were 6 participants of the Greek Network and 7 presentations. Also during 2012, 6 seminars were successfully completed for the Greek HPH members, who were trained in Communication Skills and Stress Resilience. Moreover, 3 issues of the Greek HPH Newsletter were published and distributed to the Greek HPH members. Furthermore, the two issues (1 & 2) of the «Clinical Health Promotion. Research & Best Practice for Patients, Staff and Community» and a leaflet about “nutrition & exercise” were distributed. As for surveys, “Hospitals Personnel’s’ Health” survey was conducted in two hospitals in 2012 and is now being continued in 2 more Greek hospitals members. Lastly, during the GB meeting of the Greek HPH Network, the creation of a Greek Network for Smoke free Hospitals was decided, in order to focus more on actions about smoking cessation.

Please describe the main facilitators and supportive factors encountered

The topics of the conferences and the seminars, which were held during the previous year, were caused even more Health Professional Personnel of the hospitals to express interest in participating in the Greek HPH Network’s activities. This is the reason why Greek HPH Network has set as a priority the implementation of conferences and seminars even to each hospital member individually.

Please describe the main problems encountered

The lack of personnel in the Greek hospitals and the severe financial difficulties that the majority of the Greek hospitals are facing are the two major problems. Unfortunately, because of these difficulties, there are cases where the personnel consider health promotion activities as a second priority.

What do you think is the limit for more hospitals and health services in your country/region to join the activities of your Network ?

The main problems were the lack of personnel in the Greek hospitals, the constant change of hospital management and the severe financial difficulties that the majority of the Greek hospitals are facing.

Q57: 57. How do you think that the International HPH Network, the GB and the GA could better meet the needs of the National/Regional networks?

The Int'l Network could better meet the needs of our Regional Network by 'softening' the language around the requirements in the Letter of Intent. For our hospitals, the HPH standards are not the driver of HP in our health system, so this requirement, as it is written, often dissuades organizations from joining.

Q58: 58. How do you think your Network could better contribute to the International HPH Network's fulfilment of its objectives?

There are very high quality researchers doing high quality HPH-related research in our Region. We could contribute and exchange more of our knowledge with each other and the members of the Int'l HPH Network.
